HOT SUMMER DAY ??

Your Mayor doesn't know what happened to those awful hot summer days, but I sure was glad to see this latest blast of cool air.

KRR had 50 shooters come out to enjoy the day shooting and visiting at good ole Ft. Miller. If we had known that the weather was going to be so nice we could have planned on more shooting.

The sheriff and Mayor have come up with a plan, so next time it's nicer than expected we can adjust the amount of shooting on the morning of the shoot.

KRR members, "Ft Miller 2001" is coming fast, so get your entry in as soon as you can. Our annual match is not just a big shooting event with lots of shooting and good times. This event is our main source for raising money to do all the projects you see being done to improve our range and make the KRR the very best CAS club in the good ole U. S. A.. This not only takes a heck of a lot of labor, but a few dollars too.

This is the time of year to support your club. Without members involved, this thing will just dry up and blow away.

No cowboy ever broke a horse sitting' on the corral fence!

Your beloved Mayor
Cole Chance

A Word From the Blacksmith

By: Terrible Ted

Actually I have more than a word, is anyone surprised?

First thing, if you haven't been to the range lately, you're in for a surprise. We had a really good work party in June and worked on Bay 6. There's a whole little town inside the bay now that we can shoot into, out of and around.

Michigan Bob and the Mayor even built a church at the end of main street, complete with a bell tower and bell. Many thanks to Coarsegold Kid and Jessie Montana for painting the church.

A big thanks to Fargo too, for the shade in the entrance to Bay 6. He and I got up there a couple of mornings at 6:00 a.m. while it was still cool and got it hammered together, then a willing crew came up on a Saturday and dug holes, set posts and set the roof on the top.

Joaquin Rivers volunteered to put the tin on the roof. It makes for a real nice entrance to town and there's a lot of shade during the hottest part of the day.

Jessie Montana has adopted Rose's Cantina and has already got a new coat of paint on it, a hitching rail and a lean-to at the side of the place. She's planning on making the patio bigger, and covering the roof with palm leaves and who knows what else.

Deadly Tedley is still adding to the Rattle Snake Mine. He's got a sluice built, with running water and big rocks. He says he hasn't found any gold yet, but expects to any day.

Buckskin says the work on the oar cart in bay 7 is coming along real good. He's got the cart built, just needs to mount it on the wheels, and he'll be ready to lay track before too long. He'll need some help with this part, so be ready to volunteer your help when he needs it.

We've had some real good work parties this year, and will need more before the annual. I'll let everyone know what's needed and when we need to do it.

THANKS FOR ALL YOUR HELP!!!

ROUND THE CORRAL

By: Ruthless Ruth

Now I won't say where I heard this, to protect the innocent (aka the informant), but I hear that Deadly Tedley said his gun belt was too big. Coarsegold Kid told him "That's cause they sized it to fit your head!"

I'm not saying Snakebite made Fannie Oakley mad, but he woke up with a scorpion in his bed.

Devil Dog was having a hard time with his gun belt too, almost lost it on every stage. He's lost too much weight since he had it made. Says he'll just have to start drinking a six pack every night till it fits again.

Good to see Needa Tailor back shooting again. Asked how she was doing her reply was, "So far all my shots have gone down range". Guess that's better than shooting the posse leader.

Ok boys you've got some more competition. Nasty Nate is no longer shooting as a Junior. Shot his first match as a Duelist this weekend.

Speaking of Juniors, check out the results, 13th shooter overall was J. L. Hank, a Junior. This boy don't need no more lessons.

We had 11 Duelist shooters this month. That one handed stuff is getting pretty popular.

A big thank you goes to one of our younger members of the KRR. Little Fawn was out helping on set up day Saturday, she was learning how to keep score on Sunday, and I hear tell she's even written up a scenario to help grandpa, Geo Kid, with August's match. Now that's the spirit. She's really getting involved in the whole sport.

June Match Director

Justice Loving

By: Ruthless Ruth

Well June's match was fast, with just enough twists to make it fun. It was set up perfect for our usual 100 plus temperatures, then mother nature pulled a fast one and we had a really nice, fairly cool day. I didn't shoot, but everyone seemed to have a good time.

Our match director was Justice Loving. He comes from a family that likes to shoot, his brother, Eye Pinkerton and father Deuce Nail have both shot with us.

Deuce Nail was a career Army man so Justice moved around a lot while he was growing up. Most of his schooling was in the Bay area and he went to college at Sacramento State. He followed his wife to Fresno and married her here. He and his wife (Liberty Loving -aka Juli) and two sons (Buckshot and Sawdust). Live in Clovis.

Justice (aka Corbett Loving) has been shooting with the KRR for about 4 years, he says Joaquin Rivers got him interested in the sport.

When he's not shooting he's an activity director at Kastner Jr.

High School. He's really into History and uses this interest in his job. He also does Civil War reenactments and recently was involved in the making of the Alan Autry movie "The Legend of Jake Kincaid". He played Frank, the ranch hand. Frank got shot in the movie, but Justice says no one actually saw him die, so he figures the sequel will be "The Revenge of the Ranch Hand".

He also does some real nice Indian beading and other crafts. He donated a really nice knife sheath to last years annual event.

He says he really enjoys shooting with the KRR, because of the nice folks and because the club seems to be always moving forward. New ideas new props, etc. He feels Cowboy Action Shooting is a sport you can really have fun with..
